The Hessian fly has already made its appearance in Southern Indiana and Northern Kentucky, and is working havoc with wheat crop of that section.

The last issue of the "Wasp" (Ky.) Independent says: Many of the wheat fields in this section are affected with the Hessian fly and the prospect is not one of the few which can be easily destroyed. There is only one way to save the fields from absolute destruction and that is to pasture the growing plant as close as possible which either devours the fly hidden in the stalk or destroys the insect in its embryonic state. Farmers with fields affected should act promptly. All of the very early sown wheat is ravaged by the insect.

Geo. White shot and killed his brother-in-law, James Winchester, near M. II Springs, about daylight Monday morning. White's conduct is inexplicable except on the grounds of insanity or absolute depravity. It is believed that he was laboring under a fit of temporary insanity, as there is insanity in his family. Deputy Sheriff Haydn arrested him and lodged him in jail Monday afternoon. White married Winchester's sister Christmas week. There are two men in the Wayne county jail now under charge of murder, the other being Will Abbott, charged with the murder of Grace Prewitt, near Slickford last summer.—

WILL TAKE ACTION.

It is likely that the Democratic State Central Committee will shortly take cognizance of the two sets of candidates nominated in this district by the doubtful convention, and appoint a method of settlement. It has been the practice of the committee in such circumstances to order a primary to effect a settlement of such troubles. Undoubtedly this would be the most satisfactory course to pursue at the present juncture.

Many Democrats would consider it an usurpation of authority on the committee's part to declare the nominées directly. A candidate would hardly wish to receive a nomination from a judicial office from a State Committee, unless compelled to do so.

A settlement by such procedure would indeed be the reverse of Democratic doctrine, as would set a dangerous precedent. It would result in making the State Committee the final result in all like disputes.

In such an event ambitious candidates with a strong pull in the committee would be most glad of a dispute which would make a settlement necessary before the committee, whose members would constitute a friendly and prejudiced, and moreover badly informed court.

If the State Central Committee should in the present instance initiate the practice of declaring the nominées, that act would be little short of announcing its purpose to make the famous and notorious.

The general opinion is that Youtsey's confession, if anything like as specific and complete as rumored, marks the beginning of the end of the story of the foulest assassination staining the history of the State. Now that the entering wedge is fairly driven home, the accused will not much longer stand together.

There will be scurrying for cover, and a multiplicity of State's evidence, if so desires. "When thieves fall out, honest men get their dues." How much more does this apply to the most infamous of all murderers—the assassin? The coward who hides himself and slays his victim will not allow his own precious neck to be broken so long as he can save it by breaking somebody else's neck. If none of the murders of William Goebel, barring the unavoidable delays of justice, are hanged before frost falls upon the winter of 1903-4, then they will never be hanged. For there is evidence in plenty now—more than ever before—and there is more to follow. And if Jim Howard and Caleb Powers are not regretting that they have been given new trials it is because they do not know the substance of Yout-sey's confession.

What, then, becomes of the venerable contention, which is so often seen in republican organs, that the tariff of 1894, by some miraculous force, brought a panic a year before it was born? Did Secretary Shaw intend to rob the organs of one of the chiefest weapons in their arsenal? Does he not understand that the tariff of 1893 reached back about a year and brought on a panic which "cost the country more than our great war in the early sixties?"

As in 1863? What does that mean?
What is the trouble in the treasury, the scarcity of funds and the doubt as to what course the secretary would take in a primary, a course indicated by widow and established usage—Dan V. Advocate.

A Michigan man who has a well-developed conscience has come to the front. He doesn't give his name, and this prevents it from being handed over to posterity by hundreds of writing hands. Several years ago, according to his own statement, he "beat his passage" on the railroad from Versailles to Shivelyville, Ky., and now makes restitution by sending a money order for $1.01 to the railroad agent at the former place. He gives as a reason that he had suffered great anguish on account of the act, and wouldn't know any peace until he had paid his car fare on that occasion. He thought the beginning of the new year a proper time to make his conscience whole, and in every part of it, there are hundreds of subscribers to weekly papers, who have "beat" the publishers of the same out of honest labor and hard-earned dollars. If the conscience of this class of people could only be quickened as was that of the Michigan man what happiness would be brought to thousands of hours of country newspaper people—Georgetown Times.

The toy pistol, a popular instrument during the holiday season, contributed its full share to the destruction of human life. Boys were the principal victims. In Louisville several deaths occurred from lock-jaw or blood polluting the result of wounds received in consequence of these "play things." Deaths from similar cause are reported from other localities. As a consequence the toy pistol is coming under popular disapprobation, and the newspapers are discussing the necessity of prohibiting their sale and use. A bill in this direction is now pending in the Virginia Legislature.

assassins of Governor Goebel, was before the Franklin grand jury

A PIUS GANG.
BY J. MC. SCOTT.

Those well-meaning and gracious though deluded ladies of Southern birth now residing in Philadelphia and affiliating with a certain Methodist church of that "City of Brotherly—and Sisterly—Love," made a mistake in proposing to place a memorial window in the church commemorating the virtues of Winnie Davis, the "Daughter of the Confederacy." The pastor, a broad-minded, battle-scarred veteran of the Grand Army of the Republic, and humble, conscientious follower of the Christ, made a groan over when he accepted the suggestion, and entered into purpose by divine inspiration under the impression that anything but bigotry could be found in a Philadelphia church.

There are churches in the North which, no doubt, would have seized upon the opportunity to exemplify one of the highest precepts of the God of their worship but not one of them is located in Philadelphia. That city is a Nazareth out of which, verily, no true religion or honest effort of politics ever came.

Not long since a memorial window in that church was dedicated to the memory of the Martyred President McKinley, who worshipped there when in Philadelphia—did Miss Winnie Davis. It was an appropriate tribute to the virtues of a great and good man; it was placed with elaborate ceremonies to stand for the religious side of his character. In his previous sermon or talk the pastor, reverting to the manner of the President's death, addressed the congregation that they were placing the memorial in a temple sacred to the teachings of Him whose it is, and that unless they were inspired by those teachings their action was sacrilege rather than fraught with good—plainly implying that the spirit of forgiveness of the assassin, who had paid the penalty of his crime, must combine with their veneration of the piety of the dead President. The congregation accepted the admonition bowed reverently in prayer, and—either forgave Caleb Powers, or stultified their souls on their knees.

Then came the suggestion to place a small window as a memorial to a dead girl who devoutly and modestly sought that shrine when in the city. The pastor, who had come to reverence the lofty character and beautiful faith of the girl, entered into the scheme as one which might contribute to the weight of evidence showing the reinstatement of good feeling, in church circles at least, between the North and South. The proposition was received with a storm of protest from these stultified Pharisees of Philadelphia, and the preacher was overborne. The hypocritical imp of the devil could forgive the being who so cowardly murdered the greatest good McKinley, or else, to pose in a sacred function, they perjured their immortal souls at the very foot of the cross—but they cannot forgive a dead girl, whose one fault was that she was the daughter of the leader of the ill-fated "Lost Cause."

While regretting the incident as having its origin in the ill-advised action of a few Southern ladies, the dear old sunny south will worry little over it. It knows that its bigotry and malice of the Quaker City congregation represents the religious and patriotic sentiment of that city alone. Winnie Davis, the "Daughter of the Confederacy" is enshrined in every Southern heart. Winnie Davis, the pure and sweet Southern Christian girl, is enshrined in every Christian heart North and South. There are no such Christians in Philadelphia.

All honor, all praise to the memory of that noble and matchless girl—Winnie Davis—the still, uncrowned queen of the South, whose memory will ever linger in the hearts of all pure-minded people.

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations are reported favorably on the Cuban reciprocity treaty. Sheep and cattle amendments are attached. Senators Bailey and Bacon voted against a favorable report. Senator Cullom announced that he would call up the treaty for passage at an early date. A warm debate is expected.

The following entrance fees have been determined on for the various offices in the state primary. For Governor $2,500; for Auditor $2,500; for Lieutenant Governor $800; for Superintendent of Public Instruction $1,500; for Treasurer $1,800; for Clerk of the Court of Appeals $1,800, and for Commissioner of Agriculture $1,700. The total amount to be collected from the various candidates is $16,000 which the sub committee thinks will cover the expenses of the primary election. The report of the sub committee will provide for the election of the precinct election officers by the various County Executive Committees of the party, subject to appeal to the Executive Committee. The election returns will be made to the county committee of the county and by it to the State Executive Committee. This committee will declare the nominees and certify them out for positions on the official ballot.

Lawyer Guffy, tipstaff of the Court of Appeals, has been missing from his post of duty since about October 1, and no one knows his whereabouts. He was last heard from in Vanderburg county, Ind. Rumors at Frankfort connect his disappearance with the fact that testimony was brought out in the Caleb Powers trial showing him to have some knowledge of Goebel murder conspiracy. Incidentally it has been discovered that the executive journal, in the office of the Secretary of State, containing a record of the issue of a pardon for Guffy in 1892 on the charge of housebreaking has been mutilated.

Senator Deboe has again introduced a bill. This time it is for an appropriation of $50,000 for a public building at Marion, Ky. If the Senator would turn his attention to his former profession, introducing bills, he would probably be more successful.

Hon. David H. Smith, of the Fourth Congressional District is mentioned as the successor of Mr. Richardson as the minority leader of the Fifty-eighth Congress. Luke David of old he will prove his worth.

An imposition on Northern people no comfort to a true Southern gentleman, neither will it appease his wrath or reconcile him to a Roosevelt policy in the Sunny South.

The President has appointed a Negro to office in Massachusetts and, strange but true, the Yankees of the North are not satisfied.

Henry E. Youtsey was before the grand jury at Frankfort last week and the tale was told.

THE ELECTRIC LINE.

Some difficulties confront us in reaching Campbellsville. We have felt quite an interest in the building of the interurban electric line from this town to the Kentucky River, and in doing so, shading in the truth, courage and honesty of its promoter. We have no doubt as to his fitness for the work and his ability to accomplish it but we are here to say that a great deal of uncertainty and doubt has been given us as to what people could share in the good which would come from the road. Mr. Azbill has had an eye on Campbellsville, he has, together with a large percent of our people, believed it to be a good road and that it would be well given to the town.

Following his own views he has used all honorable means to gain such concessions as would enable him to build the line into that city. In a conversation with him yesterday he informed us that the way was not yet clear and that he had given up the idea of making a road through the town of Campbellsville.

He has, however, given up the idea of making a road through the town of Campbellsville, he has, however, given up the idea of making a road through the town of Campbellsville.

D. D. J. SCHOOLING DEAD.

Monday evening about seven o'clock the body of this sketch succumbed to the inevitable and calmly met his God. The deceased was a well-known insurance agent, a native of Adair county, and was born January 18, 1848.

DIED.

Last Saturday night, near the Russell Springs, Russell county, Mrs. Catherine Poole, an estimable lady 73 years of age, died. Prof. W. E. Poole, her son, who survives her. The deceased was the mother of twelve children, eleven of whom are living. She has seven sons living in Nebraska.

PREACHING NEXT SUNDAY.

W. S. Dugone, Freedon, W. H. C. Sandridge, Salem, G. W. Collins, Walnut Hill, J. Q. Montgomery, Liberty

J. F. Berger, Concord, E. N. Metcalf, Milltown, A. L. Mell, Pleasant Ridge, T. F. Barber, Clear Spring, J. L. Atkins, Gradyville, W. K. Azbill, Columbia, W. B. Cave, Pierce Chapel, J. Mayfield, Liberty.

A number of years ago the deceased crossed his Savon and united with the Presbyterian Church, and though he wandered from the fold, he expressed himself as being ready for the call of his Master. A few hours before the end came he was asked by Dr. W. R. Griscom concerning his spiritual welfare. Dr. Griscom asked him if he had been reading the New Testament and he replied, "Yes, I have." Dr. Griscom then took occasion to set forth the New Testament view of that office. He showed that elder, bishop, shepherd, pastor and overseer are but different terms to indicate different characteristics of directions and care of the flock. The pastor is the "shepherd" of the church, but will not act with the Board of trustees until he has been elected.

Mr. Azbill spoke on Sunday morning last on the duties and responsibilities of the Eldership. He had been asked by the official Board of the church to speak on that subject. Dr. Griscom took occasion to set forth the New Testament view of that office. He showed that elder, bishop, shepherd, pastor and overseer are but different terms to indicate different characteristics of directions and care of the flock. The pastor is the "shepherd" of the church, but will not act with the Board of trustees until he has been elected.

Mr. Azbill's attention to the fact that Greensburg ought to be considered, but not until a great number of the people of Greenbush and Green County are to be given the same amount of time and attention as is given to the town in the situation. They should think of the worth of such a town to their town and truly we can see nothing for Columbia to lose.

We can not see why the road would not be built from Greenbush to Campbellsville and in our judgment that town should be given an opportunity to get it. We want the road built to the town of Springfield who are to be given the same amount of time and attention as is given to the town in the situation. They should think of the worth of such a town to their town and truly we can see nothing for Columbia to lose.

At the last meeting of the Young People's Christian Association, it was agreed that the Bible Class should hold their meeting each Friday night in the meeting at their hall. All the members are requested to be present. The committee appointed to purchase the gumballs for the use of the hall are to be present. Also the berths and other literature have been subscribed for and in a short time the hall will be quite full.

It is not generally known that in Adair county there are several very valuable rock quarries. It is sandstone and when first taken from the earth is as soft as clay—can easily be cut in any shape desired with a sharp knife. It is soft, it becomes hard as fast, but mechanics easily work it. The building courses of our court-houses are made from this stone. If there was a way of getting it to market it would bring the country much revenue.

Mr. Ben Holt, who lives in Casey county and is a son of Mr. W. F. Holt, was born in a log house which is still standing, in good preservation, on the farm of Mr. H. P. Willis, six miles from Columbia. Mr. Wm. Cabell, who quite an old man, says that within his recollection thirty different families have lived in the house and that he had never known of a death occurring in it.

The following gentlemen super vised the tax book: W. F. Squires, G. C. Conner, L. L. Tucker, W. G. Pickett and D. A. Taylor. A great deal of property was to be taxed from Campbellsville, probably about four miles would be added to the length of the line. The cost of construction would be about an average of the cost per mile for the rest of the line. If the report is true that the Springfield people will raise $300,000 for the sake of getting the terminus, the thing is possible.

OBITUARY.

God whose wisdom cannot err and in whose keeping we delight to abide, has seen fit to remove from our midst our esteemed friend and Brother in Christ, Geo. W. Pickett, who died September 22, 1902. Bro. Pickett was born December 16, 1828, in Ahermarle county, Va., and was 73 years, 9 months and 6 days old at his death. His parents removed to Adair county, Ky., when he was quite small, and here he lived until his death. He was married at the age of 22 years to Miss Emilie Rodgers, to whom was born 13 children, 10 of whom are yet living, 6 boys and 4 girls. His first wife died, when his youngest child was quite small, and he was again married to Miss Pauline Estes, who survives him.

In early life he united with the M. E. Church, South, and remained a member till death. He was a member of Grayville Lodge, F. A. M., of which he was Master a number of years. He was twice honored by the people of the country, once as sheriff and once as a member of the Legislature.

Bro. Pickett was of a very obliging nature, and lost considerable money by going security for friends. He was a great sufferer, but all was done for him that loving hands could do, and he never failed to appreciate the efforts of his friends to care for him.

He was resigned to the will of God, expressing his willingness to die. In the death of Bro. Pickett the country loses a good neighbor, the children a loving father, the wife a cheerful, devoted husband. His mortal remains were laid to rest with Masonic honors, in the Pickett Chapel cemetery after a sermon by Bro. T. L. Hults, many friends and relatives present to pay the last tribute of respect to the memory of a friend.

May God put his loving arms around the bereaved ones and sustain them and prepare them for a happy eternity.

It seems that Great Britain has more money to spend for van show in India than she has to spend for food to feed starving Indians.

The Chicago Record-Herald declares that Chicago is the greatest railway center in the world. It is also the greatest stockyards center.

Mr. Secretary Shaw has made his private secretary an assistant secretary. Some men have been private secretaries into high places, but not all of them are grateful enough to make practical acknowledgement.

There is so much freight business that the railroads cannot handle it, therefore the railroads must raise freight rates in order to make expenses. This is the devious kind of logic made familiar by republican orators when speaking of the tariff.

Probably Venezuela does not pay what she owes for the same reason that Wall street had to call on Mr. Secretary Shaw for help a short time ago.

LITTLE HELPS.

When poaching eggs, put a teaspoonful of vinegar in the boiling water. The egg will keep its shape better, and the white will be nicer.

A cloth, wet in alcohol, will make washing windows in winter a satisfactory task. Alcohol will prevent the film of ice which would be the sure result of using water.

Do not wash raisins to be used in a pudding. Rub them clean between dry cloths. Washing will make your pudding heavy.

Ordinary baking soda makes an excellent dentifrice, polishing the teeth and sweetening and purifying the breath.

An excellent polisher for the nickel parts of a stove or range is whiting, moistened with ammonia. When thoroughly cleaned, scrub out the dry whiting with a chamois skin, or piece of soft cloth.

Boiling tea for twenty minutes, until a good portion of the tannin is extracted, and used hot, makes a good wash for salt rheum; it readily relieves the pain and itching.

Every woman should know something of the chemistry of the food she serves up to her family, its health-giving and its heating qualities. Overeating, and eating of unsatisfactory food.

A judge in a northwest Missouri county has decided whom the eggs produced on the farm belong to. A farmer attempted to take a basket of eggs to town to sell, but his wife objected. They had a fight, in which the old man came off victorious, and the eggs went to market. The wife was not satisfied, but had her husband arrested. The justice fined him $3 and costs and told him that in the eyes of the court those eggs belonged to his wife, and that, therefore he was no better than a thief when he took them and sold them without her consent.

DON'T BUCK.

If your neighbor is prosperous let him prosper. Don't growl, grunt or grumble. Say a good word for him and let him go at that. Don't be a kicker. Your turn will come. No one is a whole show. If you see the town is moving along rapidly feel good about it. Help things along. Show a little push. Try to get some of the benefit yourself. Don't stand around like a chilly cadaver and waste your time feeling sore because some one has more sense and success than you have. Do a little hustling yourself, and if you can say a good word for your town or its people. Say like a Prince. If you are a man of the world and disposed to be a padlock to your mouth and keep it there you can get a hypodermic injection of the milk of human kindness. Don't be a kicker. No man ever made a dollar kicking but a professional foot-ball player. No man ever got rich minding everybody's business but his own. No man ever helped himself up permanently by kicking his neighbor down. Give others a kindly word and give it liberally and gracefully. It won't cost you a penny, and remember you may want a good word yourself some day. You may have thousands to-day, and tomorrow be without the price of a shave. Don't be a kicker. It doesn't cost you a cent. There is nothing in it. If you want to throw something at somebody, throw cologne, and don't throw mud or brickbats. If you just must kick, go out behind the house and kick yourself, for if you feel that way you are the man that needs kicking.

This is a parallel of one alleged case of a man who was accused of having been stabbed by his son. Tom Robinson, a brother, many years ago.

Tom had a beautiful daughter. Her father returned from town one day while drunk, and in his frenzy attacked his daughter with a knife, stabbing her several times. She lay between life and death for quite a long time.

Robinson grieved over the matter for some time, and finally hanged himself.

There is rarely a disagreement and estrangement that is not aggravated by the story of what some gossip told that some constitutional falsehoods said had been said by one of the parties to the controversy. The real issue is often lost sight of in the war of words which ensues from the despicable source of the gossip. These political newspapers and who are conscienceless retailers of gossip and slander; those politicians who detail known campaigns lie will be the source of all Kentucky's disgraceful political troubles. After having applied all the epithets and repeated as the truth all the falsehoods known to language and to St. Paul, they base a political campaign upon what some viceupose on the other side is reported by the gossips and slanders to have said in retort. Decent people are becoming very tired of such papers and would-be politicians. Somersett Journal.
